

Freedom of speech is a fundamental right and one of the principles upon which the US was founded. Ample opportunities for diverse voices to be heard in the media is necessary to preserve this right and allow our democracy to flourish. I urge the FCC to work to ensure diversity rather than continued consolidation of our broadcast media.